Another bill effectually squelching polygamy is agitating the minds of Congress. If another delegation of Mormon ladies would storm the Congressional ramparts, bearing the banner of their faith, inscribed "multa uxores," or the Mormon leaders would make some more dramatic appeals for religious liberty. the work of destroying Salt Lake heathendom might be hastened.

Grover was married to Frankie, now Mrs. Cleveland, in the Blue Room of the White House, with no company save a bit of a bridal party and a brass band. My, how solemn it must have been! Just imagine that seven-minute ceremony being performed with nothing to stir the stillness but the modulated voice of the preacher and twenty-seven horns, two drums and a glochenspiel! The President has been acting from the first apparently on the principle that his wedding was his own business and he fought it out on that line.

Rev. Martin Redkey and wife spent yesterday (Sunday) in Rainsboro, the guests of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Teter spent Saturday and Sunday near Latteville, Ross county, visiting relatives and friends. organization. The Grand Master Workman is bitterly opposed to liquor-drinking; he discountenances the boycott and would only permit strikes in extreme cases. But the majority of the laboring men do not join in his views of these matters. Many times during the recent struggle between labor and capital, the struggle between labor and capital, the Knights lost public favor through rashness under circumstances that required coolness. Strength was lost in strikes and boycotts, inaugurated for petty reasons and obstinately carried on. There is, and can be, nothing wrong in a labor organization which does not assume too much authority in matters pertaining to it. There is nothing wrong in a reasonable strike, but when laborers attempt to prevent other laborers from taking the places which they wilfully vacated, their action becomes criminal. A union of laboring men for social intercourse and mutual benefit is eminently right and such is the theory of the Knights of Labor as conceived by their leaders.

For a few weeks past our Republican contemporaries of the old and the new 12th District have been clamoring each to have the Congressional convention held in its town or to have its candidate nominated, or to get the earth or the moon or some other little triffe at our disposal and we will settle the matter right now. Highland county intends to have the convention and the candidate, too. Hillsboro is entitled to the convention and is prepared to accommodate it, both in the way of hotels and railway post in the way of hotels and railway transportation. And as for candidates we have two of the best that tread the fertile soil of the 12th District. We shall not assume the responsibility of choosing between Hon. Alphonso Hart and Hon. J. J. Pugsley, for we leave that choice to be made by the District Convention when it meets in Music Hall. Mr. Pugsley's able services as our Representative in the Senate entitle him to the renewed support of his constituency and his services to the State of Ohio in troublous times give him a claim to six among her representatives at Washington. Gov. Hart has made the race before and knows just how the land lies, and where the obstacles are. Hard as the Democratic papers have labored to cast discredit uponhis conduct at Washington, no one has forgotten his carnest conduc transportation. And as for candidates

If Grover had been an Ohio Senator Miss Folsom might well have mistrusted the sincerity of his views. A Democratic Senator from Ohio would probaby have started on a Chattanooga tour, about three hours before the wedding.

Leading Democrats assert with a blast of trumpets that the legality of the proeedings in the Senate after the departure of the twenty Smart Alexanders will be tested pretty soon. Those who enjoy playing tit for tat would smile to see the Judges of the Supreme Court get up and skedaddle about the time the case comes on to be heard.

Liquor dealers are doing more for the cause of Prohibition in fighting the Dow law than the combined efforts of all our Prohibitionists. Every meeting to condemn the "interference" of the Republican Legislature or to pledge resistence against the operation of the

The Supreme Judgeship.

Marshall J. Williams, of Washington C. H., is spoken of as a Republican candidate for Supreme Judge, and the mention of his name calls forth loud amens from this section of the country. His recent decisions in important cases coming before the Circuit Court have added to the universal esteem in which he is held. Judge Williams is well known here, and is everywhere regarded as a lawyer of sound judgment and fine ability, well deserving the compliment that his election to that office would confer.

Clement Bates, of Cincinnati, is mentioned by a number of papers as a Republican candidate for the same office. Mr. Bates is the author of a leading work on "Pleadings and Practice," and occupies a high position at the bar of Hamilton county. A prominent Demo-cratic lawyer assures us that Mr. Bates is thoroughly qualified for the office. The selections for this high office should be carefully made, and while the Republicans of Highland are surveying the field they should canvass well the claims of Mr. Bates.
